

Event Businesses Invited to Join the Ko-founder Program of a Stakeholder Management Platform.

EventTech startup Konnect Platform is looking for innovative collaborators to help guide product development. Launching the Ko-founder program in March, Konnect will offer participants FREE lifetime access to current features, PLUS 12 months free access to future premium features. To participate, simply sign up at www.konnect.events and provide feedback on the platform.

The Konnect Platform is a stakeholder and project management tool designed specifically for event production. It joins all delivery teams to a common site so getting and sharing information is fast, accurate and easy. One page. One Source. One click.

As a SaaS product, the Konnect Platform is available anywhere in the connected world. The program is open to any business who creates a profile and provides input. Feedback can be submitted from the Settings -> Roadmap section in the platform or via email directly to justine@konnect.events.

Adam Hinchey, co-founder of Konnect Platform says “We strongly believe that users and the events community are best qualified to drive the direction of the product. Being committed to making the lives of event workers better means not only hearing what they need but actually building it.
Engaging with users like this is exciting and collaboration is in our DNA. We want to forge strong and long-lasting relationships with the global events industry. We plan on expanding the Ko-founder program in the future so for us this is just the beginning.”

Visit the Ko-founder page (www.konnect.events/ko-founder) for more information. Eligibility closes 30 April 2022 so be sure to take advantage of the benefits on offer by sending feedback before then.
The Konnect team can’t wait to hear from you!
